THE FUN LAB

Effective laboratory sessions can achieve many desirable outcomes, including increasing learners' interest in their academic discipline, discouraging rote learning, and motivating students to participate in the process of investigation and inquiry, thereby leading to the development of higher-level cognitive skills. The practical application of laboratory experience allowed Grade 1 students at Hindustan school, to learn Chapter "TIME". The laboratory environment provides learners with the opportunity to improve their problem-solving and critical-thinking skills while also exposing them to reactions, materials, and equipment.

POSTER MAKING

Designing posters was a way for Grade 8 students at Hindustan International School to express their creativity. The topic of Gender Equality allowed students to not only have discussions on the topic but also showcase their skills before depicting their thoughts through art.

ARTICLE on GENDER EQUALITY

Gender equality is great. Almost everyone has a love or support for it. It's similar to the child who is the favourite of your parents. Feminism is currently the least popular. Why? We are unaware of the truth. We are aware that we dislike it. Seeing gender equality makes people think, 'Wow!' Everyone deserves equality, but when they come across feminism, they become confused. Men and women are like two sides of a coin. Sure, there are a few physical changes, such as those men have. Emotionally, we are all experiencing the same rollercoaster. Men have been advised not to cry because tears are said to be a detriment to masculinity, and women have also been advised not to be too strong. To conclude, gender equality and feminism are the same; men and women are same.
