FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Dear Reader,

“October is the opal month of the year — a time of reflection, ripeness, and renewal.”

As October graces our campus, it brings a renewed sense of purpose and enthusiasm. This month has been filled with moments that blend learning with creativity — from engaging classroom projects and cultural celebrations to initiatives that encouraged teamwork and leadership. Each experience has strengthened our students’ confidence, curiosity, and compassion, reminding us that education thrives both within and beyond the classroom.

October reminds us to embrace change with optimism and to celebrate growth in every form. As we move forward, may we continue to nurture a spirit of inquiry, integrity, and innovation. Let this month’s reflections inspire us to learn deeply, serve selflessly, and shine brightly in all we do — making every day a meaningful step toward excellence and togetherness.
