ACTIVITY ON TIME

First-graders at Hindustan International School, Guindy brought supplies to class in order to construct a model of a clock. This activity is really enjoyable for the students and improves their motor skills. The ability to tell time is one of the most crucial abilities. Determining whether they are running late or have lots of time to spare might be helpful to learners. It enables students to learn about punctuality in reality and can assist them in catching a bus, train, or airplane on time.

Students Corner

ACTIVITY ON SOUND

Early science activities encourage students to investigate and experiment by stimulating their curiosity. In the end, this improves their analytical and problem-solving abilities. It encourages kids to inquire about how things operate and gain awareness of their surroundings. Hindustan International School's Grade 1 students were thus given the task of creating a model of a musical instrument that would enable them to comprehend sound examples for all time. Pupils produced amazing models of musical instruments.
